

Most Popular Fur-Trimmed Finery

EVERYTHING is trimmed with fur and already furriers are making up in what are called "millinery fur" imitations of mink, ermine, skunk, leopard, mole, and seal. These furs are used in bands and are used for trimming muffs, turbans, neckpieces and dresses. They border gowns at the hem, and sleeves at the wrist. Occasionally a high-necked blouse shows a narrow band of fur lagging the throat.

But it is in millinery and muffs (which are made of velvet or other fabrics) that fur bands appear as an indispensable part of the composition. Round, close-fitting turbans, Oriental turbans, small hats, a few of the larger ones that are beginning to emerge from their eclipse, are all taking to themselves the luxury and suggestion of warmth and comfort which is lent them by the fur band.

Millinery furs are called by the names of the furs they imitate, as "sealskin," "fox," "mink," "mole," "leopard," "ermine." It is more than likely that Molly Cottontail provides many of the skins which are transformed by furriers into almost anything they wish to imitate. The opossum, the skunk, the muskrat, the coyote and others have and help out in providing furs for trimming, because there is a tremendous and increasing demand for them. The skins of these people of the wild are so disgraced by the dyeing and markings and piecings and clippings of furriers that their masquerading is accepted easily. No qualifying "imitation" prefixes their borrowed names. They are used in the handsomest of millinery and garments, and they make it possible for "the many" as well as "the few," to indulge in good-looking furs.

The hats on which fur bands and collars are used are small and close fitting as a rule. Mostly velvet turbans, although plush and satin figure in the making of a good number of models. The combination of fur and velvet, or fur and satin, is more effective than that of fur and plush, in millinery. When long-haired furs are used they are cut in narrow bands, but short-haired furs, not so bulky, are invariably this season cut either narrow or wide.

In passing, it may be mentioned that furs must not be cut with scissors. The home milliner or dressmaker may cut them satisfactorily by marking a line with tailor's chalk on the skin side of the pelt and cutting along this line with a razor blade. In sewing seams two edges are held together and overcast. Furriers use a triangular needle, and it is far easier to sew skins with than the round needle. All three edges are cutting edges.

It will be seen from the picture that the muffs and hats are made to match, while the neckpieces are odd—of another kind of fur or plush. This is only a fancy not an established fashion. The vogue of plain skirts with plush jackets to match in color does away with the need of a neckpiece other than a band of fur around the collar. With such a suit a hat and muff to match, trimmed with fur like that on the collar, is delightfully chic and also delightfully comfortable. One can face any degree of cold with them.

The materials used for the muffs and turbans are many, velvets, plushes, broadened silks, broadened crepes, wide heavy broadened ribbons, satins and chiffon all contribute to the making up of these smart accessories.

Muffs are flat and soft. Lace is used for their trimming, and a touch of lace on the turban corresponds with that on the muff. As is usual when furs are much in fashion (they are never out) metallic laces have reappeared and are sparingly used as a decoration on fancy muffs and neckwear, and in touches of gold and silver on millinery.

Some of the muffs and turbans shown may be attempted by the home dressmaker with good chances of success. Before attempting them, however, she should examine a set made by professionals. There are many small items which if overlooked spell failure.

Whether it shows through or not, it is elegant, and will make a Christmas gift that will delight the heart of its fortunate recipient.

From one and a quarter to one and a half yards of all-over lace will make two of these without any seams. Lace 18 inches wide is cut in two lengths and the straight strip forms the little bodice. Beading and lace edging trim the top and form the straps over the shoulder. A wider heading of fine Swiss embroidery is made to the waist measure.

Baby ribbon is run in the beading at the top of the garment and tied in a full bow at the front. It is run in the shoulder straps, which are made of beading with lace edging whipped to each side. A narrow hem finishes each side of the front. Wider ribbon is run through the beading at the waist and tied in a bow at the front.

By way of adding the most frivolous and dainty of finishing touches, tiny chiffon roses in pink, blue and white, with little ribbon rose foliage, is applied (in a short festoon) over the bust at each side. They are basted on, to be removed when the corset cover is washed.

The sewing on such garments is to be done by hand, but there is so little of it that only a short time is needed. Considering its beauty and inexpensiveness this corset cover is to be recommended as among the choicest of gifts. It is good enough for a millionaire, costs little, but, bought in the shops, sells for a high price.

German, val and cluny—are very strong and will wear as long as muslin or mullin.

Here is a corset cover which will please every woman who loves dainty finery. And to those one who does not? This pretty little furbelow is meant to be worn under sheer waists.

Julia Bottomley.

Novel Paris Bag. Bags continue to be popular, and a new one which has come from Paris is made of silk, either striped or of all black, and is daintily fitted with cord case, mirror and a watch.

Julia Bottomley.

Whether it shows through or not, it is elegant, and will make a Christmas gift that will delight the heart of its fortunate recipient.

From one and a quarter to one and a half yards of all-over lace will make two of these without any seams. Lace 18 inches wide is cut in two lengths and the straight strip forms the little bodice. Beading and lace edging trim the top and form the straps over the shoulder. A wider heading of fine Swiss embroidery is made to the waist measure.

Baby ribbon is run in the beading at the top of the garment and tied in a full bow at the front. It is run in the shoulder straps, which are made of beading with lace edging whipped to each side. A narrow hem finishes each side of the front. Wider ribbon is run through the beading at the waist and tied in a bow at the front.

By way of adding the most frivolous and dainty of finishing touches, tiny chiffon roses in pink, blue and white, with little ribbon rose foliage, is applied (in a short festoon) over the bust at each side. They are basted on, to be removed when the corset cover is washed.

The sewing on such garments is to be done by hand, but there is so little of it that only a short time is needed. Considering its beauty and inexpensiveness this corset cover is to be recommended as among the choicest of gifts. It is good enough for a millionaire, costs little, but, bought in the shops, sells for a high price.

German, val and cluny—are very strong and will wear as long as muslin or mullin.

Here is a corset cover which will please every woman who loves dainty finery. And to those one who does not? This pretty little furbelow is meant to be worn under sheer waists.

Julia Bottomley.

Novel Paris Bag. Bags continue to be popular, and a new one which has come from Paris is made of silk, either striped or of all black, and is daintily fitted with cord case, mirror and a watch.

Julia Bottomley.

Whether it shows through or not, it is elegant, and will make a Christmas gift that will delight the heart of its fortunate recipient.

From one and a quarter to one and a half yards of all-over lace will make two of these without any seams. Lace 18 inches wide is cut in two lengths and the straight strip forms the little bodice. Beading and lace edging trim the top and form the straps over the shoulder. A wider heading of fine Swiss embroidery is made to the waist measure.

MANY USES FOR GRAPE

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR LOVERS OF THAT FRUIT.

Made into Catsup It is a Welcome Addition to the Winter Menu—Recipe for Unfermented Juice—Marmalade and Salad.

Grape Catsup.—Take five pounds of grapes and stew over a slow fire until soft; then rub through a sieve. Add two and a half pounds of sugar, one tablespoonful of allspice, one of pepper, one of cinnamon, one of cloves, half a tablespoonful of salt and a pint of vinegar. Boil slowly until thick and smooth, then bottle.

Grape Jelly Without Water.—Select perfectly clean Concord grapes; strip them from the stems into a clean, dry preserving or jelly kettle; wash with a wooden potato-masher while they heat. Keep them to the boiling point for four hours, uncovered, stirring and mashing them every now and then. Then allow to boil gently for another hour. Keep uncovered and stir frequently to prevent burning. Then set aside and let cool slightly. Pour into cheesecloth strainers, a little in each one, and let drain over night. Then measure the juice and proceed as usual.

Unfermented Grape Juice.—Take the following proportion of grapes, sugar and water: Fifteen cups of Concord grapes stripped from the stems, nine cups of water and three cups of sugar. Mash the grapes and put them into the preserving kettle with five cups of water. Let boil gently until soft; then strain off clear. Return seeds and skins to the kettle, add remaining four cups of sugar and cook until seeds are clear from pulp. Strain this juice through cheesecloth and add to the first strained. Put into the kettle over the fire and add the three cups of sugar. Bring to boiling point and continue five minutes; skim and bottle in air-tight jars while hot. Bottles with patent stoppers and fasteners are most convenient.

Ripe Grape Marmalade.—Take four pounds of grapes, four pounds of granulated sugar, one pound of stoned raisins, chopped fine; two oranges, seeded and chopped with yellow rind of one. Cook the fruit half an hour, add the sugar and boil ten minutes longer. Pour into jelly glasses or marmalade jars and seal up.

Grape Salad.—Remove the skins from large, white California grapes and cut them in halves to remove seeds. Blanch an equal quantity of English walnuts or pecans and shave in strips. Remove the skin and all the white fiber from the apple and, rather tart oranges, cut in rather thick slices, then into strips, removing the seeds. Grapefruit may be substituted for the orange. Dress each separately with oil and lemon juice seasoned with a little paprika. To give a dainty finishing touch, sprinkle a few chopped candied cherries or pistachio nuts over the top. If you want something a little out of the ordinary, mix the salad with a cream mayonnaise, in which blend a little almond paste, or sprinkle fresh grated coconut over the salad.

French Pickles. Three quarts green tomatoes, one quart peppers, one head cauliflower, one quart onions; cut all up fine and sprinkle well with salt. Let stand over night. In the morning drain off the juice, take one or two bunches of celery, scald in a little vinegar until tender, pour this vinegar off and add two quarts of small cucumber pickles cut up into small pieces. For the dressing use one-quarter pound dry mustard, one-half ounce turmeric powder, one-half pound celery seed, two cups sugar, one cup flour. Mix the above in a little cold vinegar and stir into one-half gallon of boiling hot vinegar. Let thicken and pour over the other mixture while hot.

Banana Pie. Line deep plate with rich crust and bake a delicate brown. Filling: Take a scant cup of sugar in your sauce pan and cream into a generous teaspoon of butter (not melted), beat in the yolks of two eggs and two tablespoons flour, and a cup of boiling water and cook, stirring constantly until thick. Add a little vanilla after the cream is cool. Slice into the crust a layer of bananas alternated with a layer of cream. There should be two layers of each. Frost with the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, with two teaspoons of sugar. Brown in oven. Serve cold.

Peach Whip. The following peach whip is delicious: Cut ripe, juicy peaches in cubes, and cover them with sugar. Stand them on ice for half an hour. Whip the whites of eggs stiff and beat in granulated sugar until you have a stiff meringue—in the proportion of a tablespoonful of sugar to one egg white. Pipe the meringue in the center of a dish, pour the peaches around it and serve with cream.

Eggs and Cheese. Cut some small squares of toast, butter them thickly, and put on each a slice of hard-boiled egg. Melt in a pan any scraps of cheese you may have, with a little milk. Season with pepper, salt and make custard. When smooth and thick, pour over the eggs and serve at once.

Pineapple Whip. Grate some pineapple and mix with it some stiffly whipped cream. Serve it in paper cases or in meringues with a few candied violets on top.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By H. O. MILLER, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 2

BALAK AND BALAAM.

LESSON TEXT—Numbers 22:1-4, 23:10-24. Read Numbers 22:1-4, 23:10-24. GOLDEN TEXT—"A double-minded man, unstable in all his ways." Jas. 1:8.

Following our last lesson the Israelites marched along the borders of the wilderness meeting with much opposition. In Num. 20 we are told of the death of Aaron. They met Arad (21:1-3) and overthrew him. Moving around Edom was a difficult process and the people became discouraged. Again they murmured against God and against Moses. Swift punishment followed in the form of fiery serpents, Num. 21:4-11. Confessing their sin Moses interceded on their behalf and the look at a brazen serpent suggested to them the necessary attitude of faith towards God. After sundry wanderings, the dwelling among the Amorites and the overthrow of sundry tribes, we come to their encounter with Balak. As they journeyed the report of their victories preceded them and Balak sought to protect himself against these strange "people come out of Egypt" by other means than that of war, for, said he, "they are covering the face of the earth." See Ex. 15:15.

Little Known About Balaam.

Here Balaam appears upon the scene. Little is known about him. He evidently had a knowledge of Jehovah and yet was a sorcerer or spiritist, dealing with evil spirits, and was, probably, a Midianite.

I. The Call to Curse, Ch. 22:1-4. There are six personal pronouns in verses 1-4; Balak sought to fight fire with fire, to save his own face. He feared those whom God blessed. The world today hates those whom God blesses. Had Balak been wise he would have cast in his lot with Israel and not have miserably perished in battle along with the unwhiling tool, Balaam. (See Num. 31:8, Josh. 13:22.)

Balaam at first refused Balak's invitation (v. 13), but Balak sends more exalted messengers and greater offers of honor and rewards, promising him honor in the kingdom if he would but curse Israel (v. 17). Balaam again returns word that this is impossible (v. 18) for he cannot go beyond the word of Jehovah, not that he was in sympathy with that word at all, but he was conscious of Jehovah's power.

II. A Challenge by the way, Ch. 22:23-25. The angel of Jehovah, as the agent of his anger, interposed to save Balaam from himself. Lust had so blinded his eyes that even an ass saw more clearly than he. God rebuked him and those who trafficked with evil spirits in order to produce results are mocked by the fact that a dumb ass found voice and spoke. Finally, after repeating his conditional permission that he was to speak only the word Jehovah was to give him, he is permitted to proceed with the "princes of Balak."

Balaam a Prophet.

III. The chargeless message, Ch. 24. Read carefully the intervening chapters. In them we have the account of Balaam meeting Balak and of his brief but wonderful prophecy concerning Israel. Balaam gives us a wonderful description of one who is a prophet (24:16). He (1) "heareth the words of God," (2) "knoweth the knowledge of the most high," (3) "seeth the vision of the almighty." Verse 17 is a wonderful prophecy of the Lord Jesus, who is "a star," for he "lighteth every man who cometh into the world." (See also 2 Pet. 1:19.) He is called "an scepter" because of his kingly way (see Lk. 1:32, Heb. 1:8). From the context we read how once his lips were opened he declared a wonderful prophecy concerning these whom Balak considered his enemies and with prophetic eyes he sees the coming glory of Israel. Balak's anger is kindled, and he seeks to drive Balaam away, but each time there comes forth from his lips one of these unwelcome prophecies. These marvelous prophecies which fell from Balaam's lips, as an instrument, taught that this entire world of evil is under control of Jehovah and its curses upon his people are important. He may even compel unwilling instruments, if needful, to become agents for the accomplishment of his purposes. Balaam's sad end strikingly illustrates the fact that a man may admire the ideal of righteousness and the beauty of holiness and yet failing to yield his own life to those principles fall utterly in the consumption of his life and his influence. He taught Israel to sin.

A FOOD DRINK Which Brings Daily Enjoyment.

A lady doctor writes: "Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of my enjoyment daily obtained from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not an irritant like coffee."

"I began to use Postum 8 years ago, not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made my nights long, weary periods to be dreaded and unfitting me for business during the day."

"On advice of a friend, I first tried Postum, making it carefully as suggested on the package. As I had always used 'cream and no sugar,' I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it as my Kentucky friend wanted her coffee to look—like a new saddle."

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years. I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like it in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight, can sleep and am not nervous."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "Write for the little book, 'The Road to Wellbeing.'"

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds.

There's a reason for Postum.

Old People Need A Bowel Stimulant

The Ideal One Is a Mild Laxative—Tonic That Will Keep the Bowels Gently Active.

Healthy old age is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the bowels that great care should be taken to see that they act regularly. The fact is that as age advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to prompt digestion.

Some help can be obtained by eating easily digested foods and by plenty of exercise, but this latter is irksome to most elderly people. One thing is certain, that a state of constipation should always be avoided, as it is dangerous to life and health. The best plan is to take a mild laxative as often as is deemed necessary. But with equal certainty it is suggested that cathartics, purgatives, physics, salts and pills be avoided, as they do but temporary good and are so harsh as to be a shock to a delicate system.

A much better plan and one that thousands of elderly people are following, is to take a gentle laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts as nearly like nature as is possible. In fact, the tendency of this remedy is to strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles and so train them to act naturally again, when medicines of all kinds can usually be dispensed with. This is the opinion of many people of different ages, among them Mrs. Mary A. P. Davidson of University Mount Home, San Francisco, Cal. She is 78 and because of her sedentary habits had continual bowel trouble. From the day she began taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she has had no further inconvenience and naturally she is glad to say kind things of this remedy.

A bottle can be bought of any drug gist at fifty cents or one dollar. People usually buy the fifty cent size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits, they buy the dollar size, which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. Elderly persons of both sexes can follow these suggestions with every assurance of good results.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Notes Disregarded. "Don't you think Miss Yowler's voice has remarkable range?" "I do indeed. It simply romps all over that song she is trying to sing."

The Difference. "What the difference between speculation and investment?" "When you lose, it is speculation; when you win it is investment."—Judge.

Too Economical. "He'll never be rich." "But he's just bought himself a fine out!"

"Yes, but he bought it to save street car fare."

And That Won Her. "I don't see what argument your wife used to get that woman I was trying to get to cook for us, we told her we could treat her like one of the family?"

"My wife promised her that we wouldn't."

He Obeyed. Willie was struggling through the story in his reading lesson. "No, said the captain," he read, "it was not a sleep. It was a larger vessel. By the rig I judged her to be a-a-a-a."

The word was new to him. "Barque," supplied the teacher. Still Willie hesitated. "Barque!" repeated the teacher, this time sharply.

Willie looked as though he had not heard aright. Then with an apprehensive glance around the class he shouted:

"Bow-wow!"

Signatures on Paintings. Experts rarely rely on signatures alone to determine the authenticity of an old painting, but trust rather to their knowledge of the painter's technique. Sometimes the painter's name is found in a conspicuous place, as, for instance, in Raphael's "Sposazzo" at Milan.

Proud of having surpassed his master the youthful genius wrote on a frieze in the very center of the canvas, Raphael Urbinas."

Reynolds hardly ever signed his work. But upon the completion of the portrait of Mrs. Siddons as "The Tragic Muse," he wrote his name large on the gold embroidery of her dress. He was unable, he said, "to resist the temptation of sending my name to posterity on the hem of your garment."

A FOOD DRINK Which Brings Daily Enjoyment.

A lady doctor writes: "Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of my enjoyment daily obtained from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not an irritant like coffee."

"I began to use Postum 8 years ago, not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made my nights long, weary periods to be dreaded and unfitting me for business during the day."

"On advice of a friend, I first tried Postum, making it carefully as suggested on the package. As I had always used 'cream and no sugar,' I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it as my Kentucky friend wanted her coffee to look—like a new saddle."

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years. I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like it in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight, can sleep and am not nervous."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "Write for the little book, 'The Road to Wellbeing.'"

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds.

There's a reason for Postum.

MRS. MARY A. P. DAVIDSON

had continual bowel trouble. From the day she began taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she has had no further inconvenience and naturally she is glad to say kind things of this remedy.

A bottle can be bought of any drug gist at fifty cents or one dollar. People usually buy the fifty cent size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits, they buy the dollar size, which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. Elderly persons of both sexes can follow these suggestions with every assurance of good results.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

When a man begins to abuse his own town it is time for him to move.

The Cause. She—I don't know what makes her so positive about everything. He—Her sex.—Puck.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, &c. a bottle 25c.

Naturally. "Was Harry angry when father ordered him from the house last night?" "He certainly was put out."

Sure. "This story says a man raised an umbrella," said the Boob. "Where do they raise umbrellas?"

"In wet climates," replied the Cheerful Idiot.

To Please the Ladies. "Are you strict with lady smugglers?"

"Oh, no," answered the customs inspector. "We always let them smuggle in a few cigarettes or a cake or two of foreign soap."

Landscape Would Be Hezy. "I wonder why it is that joy rides are always taken at night?"

"Chiefly, I suspect, because the person who is in the mood for a joy ride is seldom in a condition to view the scenery."

Too Much Reform. Mayor Cheney of Hartford said of a reformer who desired to revive some of the most intolerable of the Sunday blue laws:

"The man would stop us from reading our Sunday newspaper, from taking our Sunday auto ride."

He frowned. "A reformer of this type," he said, "may be defined as one who believes in the divine right of interference."

Foley Kidney Pills Relieve promptly the suffering due to weak, inactive kidneys and painful bladder action. They offer a powerful help to nature in building up the true excretory kidney tissue, in restoring normal action and in regulating bladder irregularities. Try them.

Remove Bursal Enlargements, Thickened, Swollen Tissues, Curbs, Filled Tendons, Soreness from any Bruise or Strain! Stop Spavin Lameness. Alleviate Pain. Does not blister, remove the hair or lay the horse. $2.00 a bottle, delivered. Book 1 K free.

ABSORBINE, JR., the antiseptic liniment for mankind. For Syphilis, Strains, Gouty or Rheumatic deposits, Swollen, Painful Varicose Veins. Will let you move if you write. $1 and $2 per bottle at dealers or delivered. Manufactured only by W. F. YOUNG, P. O. F., 110 Temple St., Springfield, Mass.

better than cure. Tutt's Pills if taken in time are not only a remedy for, but will prevent SICK HEADACHE, biliousness, constipation and kindred diseases.

LIFE'S WORTH LIVING IN GEORGIA. Like the wars of prosperity. A few years ago, when the war of prosperity was in its height, the people of Georgia were in a state of great prosperity. They were rich and happy, and they were proud of their country. But now, when the war of poverty is in its height, the people of Georgia are in a state of great poverty. They are poor and unhappy, and they are ashamed of their country.

RENEW THE POWER OF YOUTH. Is your body fastened? Are your bones aching? If they are, let me tell you about my physical efficiency course. It is Nature's direct road to renewed youth, strength. Just a post card will bring you full particulars. See how, get it, before it's too late.

PATENTS. Watson R. Coleman, Wash. Imp. D.C. Books free. High on invention. Best results.

PAINERS—Why buy? Improved Minnesota Painless Hair Remover. Removes hair without pain. It is Nature's direct road to renewed youth, strength. Just a post card will bring you full particulars. See how, get it, before it's too late.

W. N. U., ST. LOUIS, MO. 42-1913.

PISO'S REMEDY. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by Druggists.

FOR COUGHS AND COLDS.